Evergreens Among Fruit Trees.

Michigan fruit growers, says the "Chicago News," claim that pine trees scattered through an orchard, have a beneficial influence in driving away the moth of many of the destructive insects which prey upon apples and apple trees. It is supposed to be the strong effluvia issuing from the turpentine of the pine.

Others assert that the pine in all its varieties throws off constantly in cold weather a large amount of warmth or caloric, which has a favorable influence on surrounding trees during the winter season. In fact it is contended by some scientific men that all evergreen trees have this influence.

The Supervisors.

The Board of Supervisors met in Santa Rosa in regular session last Monday. After reading the minutes of the last meeting the following bills were allowed: E. Gillan, $194.60; H. A. Russell, $483.29; E. Fine, $398. There being no other business before the Board they adjourned to meet next Monday, when, in addition to other business, they will canvass the vote of Tuesday's election.

Glad to Get Back.

Henry Matthews, formerly a farmer in this valley, and who disposed of his farm a few years ago, and with his family emigrated to Oregon, to better his condition, has returned to Sonoma thoroughly disgusted. ## Apoplexy of the Vine.

Chas. A. Wetmore of the State Board of Viticulture has made an investigation into the cause of the serious damage suffered by vines in many parts of the State the past Summer. The trouble was mainly a sudden cessation in growth, loss of foliage and apparent dying condition, without previous indications of such weakening. This affection has been chiefly noticed in Mission vines in the vicinity of Anaheim, but is not confined to that district. In a recent paper to the people of Anaheim by C. A. Wetmore, he designates the affection as apoplexy, or sunstroke of the vine. "It seems," says Mr. Wetmore, "that up to this time there is no known remedy for this apoplexy. The vines which are attacked, even when they are only partially dried, because they become restored very rarely afterward, even with great care. Drainage only can diminish, under certain circumstances, the chances of folletage, by regulating the conditions of the humidity of the soil."

Another disease of the vine, caused in some respects by conditions similar to the one already spoken of, is known in France as Rouget. Drainage appears to be the best means of diminishing this accident. If the canes have not perished short pruning is suggested; if the plant has suffered much, it is suggested to cut the vine down close to the roots and graft it.

It is suggested in the case of sunstroke vines, if not very seriously damaged, to prune very early. The paper of Mr. Wetmore shows much thought and careful investigation.

COUNTY ITEMS.

The Santa Rosa Woolen Mills resumed operations Wednesday morning.

F. Hillman has shipped from Petaluma and Santa Rosa this season 55,000 pounds of wool.

Abram M. Brand has received his commission from the Postmaster General as postmaster at Penn's Grove.

Joseph Einhart, an employee of the San Francisco & North Pacific Railroad Company, was seriously injured by a flat car falling upon him, near Oak Grove, Monday. He was taken to Santa Rosa for treatment.

A lady in Petaluma, while hanging up clothes, last Monday, was struck on the head by a falling bird cage which was fastened to the clothes line and became detached. She was rendered unconscious by the blow and remained insensible for twelve hours.

Shot on Sonoma Mountain.

(Santa Rosa Democrat.)

One Marshal Staples, a resident of Vallejo township, approached Sheriff Bishop on the sidewalk in front of the Court House, Monday afternoon, and said that he had shot a man by the name of James McHill of Vallejo township, and wished to give himself up. The reporter visited the prisoner and used all his persuasive powers in order to glean a few of the particulars of the shooting, but he shut himself up as close as a clam, his attorney having forbidden him talking about the affair. From what could be learned elsewhere it appears that Staples met McHill on one of the lonely tortuous roads on Sonoma mountain at 12 o'clock Monday, and shot him three times with a Winchester repeating rifle. He came away and left his victim lying in a pool of blood. The wounded man was found some time after and the information was telegraphed to the Sheriff's office. At about the time the message was received the man gave himself up. The wounded man will probably recover.
